What the World Needs Now

What the world needs now is what the world has always needed. So often we hear phrases that seem trite and simplistic, yet the Beatles put to music the message of Christ. "All you need is love" With love there is no anger, no selfishness, no violence, no poverty, no inequality, no isolation. Love, however needs to be more than emotion, it needs to be action. The way I speak and act is the measure of my love. This Christmas many people are alone, afraid, in need and neglected. We can at least give generously of our plenty out of love for one another. "And whatever you do for these", Jesus tells us, "you do for me." "Love one another, just as I have loved you."
